

REDBUD VEST ADDENDUM by Janine Bajus

A pattern goes through many changes from initial design to the published version.

The Redbud Vest pattern, published by Simply Shetland, differs slightly from the original: the neckband and the armbands to not include the rounds of green.

Although the published version is very nice, some eagle-eyed knitters have noticed the discrepancy and have requested the original version.

Here is the alternate chart for the neck and arm bands. This chart does not change any stitch counts.
